

Protection Rules

Protection Rule Categories: L1

1. Specific Individuals of Known Gender
2. Biologically and Medically Necessary Gender Information
3. Institutionally or Statistically Necessary Gender Distinctions
4. Proper Names and Fixed Designations
5. Quotations and Reported Speech
6. Self-Identification and Self-Reference
7. Lexicalized and Historically Conventional Gender Forms
8. False Gender Triggers

Protection Rule Categories: L2

1. Specific Individuals of Known Gender

- Personal Names and Social Titles
- Personal Pronouns
- Kinship and Affinal Terms
- Partners and Romantic Relationships
- Specific Individuals in Social Roles

2. Biologically and Medically Necessary Gender Information

- Reproduction and Childbearing
- Menstrual Cycles and Endocrine Processes
- Sex-Specific Organs and Diseases
- Pharmacological and Clinical Differences
- Gender-Affirming Care and Sexual Health
- Identification and Research Contexts

3. Institutionally or Statistically Necessary Gender Distinctions

- Legal and Administrative Status
- Employment and Social Security
- Sports Classification
- Spaces and Facilities
- Statistics, Monitoring, and Research
- Equality, Protection, and Targeted Services
- Religious and Cultural Practices

4. Proper Names and Fixed Designations

- Laws and Regulations
- Institutions, Organizations, and Venues
- Awards, Honors, and Titles
- Festivals and Commemorative Days
- Work Titles and Cultural Products
- Historical and Institutional Terms
- Academic and Critical Concepts
- Brands, Products, and Commercial Names

5. Quotations and Reported Speech

- Direct Quotations
- Documents and Historical Sources
- Original Legal and Official Documents
- Research and Survey Materials
- Critical Reporting and Illustrative Examples
- Secondary Reporting and News Coverage

6. Self-Identification and Self-Reference

- Self-Described Gender Labels
- Explicit Gender and Pronoun Declarations
- In-Group Community Terms
- Occupational and Identity Self-Positioning
- Stage Names, Usernames, and Character Names

7. Lexicalized and Historically Conventional Gender Forms

- Orthographic Motivation
- Gender-Neutralized Traditional Honorifics
- Lexicalized Gender-Neutral Compounds
- Grammaticalized Vocabulary
- Idiomatic Collocations and Fixed Expressions

8. False Gender Triggers

- Architectural and Engineering Components
- Mechanical, Electrical, and Device Terms
- Biology, Agriculture, and Breeding Terms
- Computing and Mathematics Terms
- Organizational and Commercial Terms
- Fixed Expressions and Idioms
- Proper Names, Place Names, and Trademarks
- Units of Measurement and Other Extended Meanings